Comfort for the Grieving Heart

Provided by St. Luke’s Hospice Bereavement Program

Old year has gone away with gift and candle,
Old year has gone away with thought and song.
Old year has given light and dark and season,
Old year has been too short and been too long.
Old year has given joy and disappointment,
Old year has given grief and strength to cope.
Old year was memory and was forgetting-
Another year is come: Give it your hope.

Here we are, yet again, in the midst of another cold and dreary time of year, when we are left reeling from the bustle of the holiday season and challenged to face the remainder of the winter months. The New Year brings about a time of change and rebirth during a season where we so often tend to feel withdrawn and isolated, merely by shorter days and colder nights and the desire to hibernate and keep insulated. This conflictual time of the year is often represented in how we behave and think: we make resolutions and the break them, we look ahead while still having a finger on the pulse of our past, we make plans yet anticipate them with a sense of dread and anxiety. On the surface, the New Year seems to be a time for excitement and opportunity, yet right below that surface, we acknowledge that this time of year brings about stillness and quiet that can at times be difficult to manage.

When we are grieving, the New Year also brings about a newness to our grief; as we anticipate stepping into 2017 without our loved one, we may once again feel a great sense of sorrow. We are entering a New Year without our loved one, and for many of you reading this, it may be the first “new year” experienced through the lens of your loss. You may find yourself focusing on what you have lost and having difficulty looking into the future and what it may bring. You may be experiencing a renewed sense of loneliness, or sadness, or despair. And, while these feelings are normal as we work through our grief, may I suggest we add one more feeling to that list?

As we prepare ourselves for a new calendar year, full of new holidays, new experiences, and new memories to be made, there is a process not only of looking back, but also of looking ahead… reminding ourselves who and what is of value to us. While much has been lost and changed, there is still much that remains. As we look ahead to the New Year, may we treat ourselves with gentleness as we grieve what has been lost and prepare ourselves for what is to come. As we navigate the next few months of cold and darkness, may we look for signs of spring, holding steadfast to the knowledge that spring will in fact arrive.

If you are one of the many who are experiencing renewed feelings of grief at this time of year, consider adding hope to the list of feelings that you may be revisiting. Hope lives in all of us; we may just need to use our time wisely in these cold winter months to nurture it and allow it to take root in our hearts.

Grief and Loss Support Group

Our next round of our 6 week Grief and Loss Support Group is scheduled for February 2017. This group is for adults grieving the loss of someone significant in their lives and provides an opportunity to come together with others who have experienced the loss of a loved one. The group guides participants in understanding the uniqueness of their grief. Please note that this is not a therapeutic group; this group provides support, resources and education on the healing process. The group will meet on Wednesdays from February 22, 2017 through March 29, 2017 from 3:30-5:30 pm at St. Luke’s Priscilla Payne Hurd Education Center, St. Luke’s Bethlehem Campus, 801 Ostrum Street, Bethlehem, PA 18015 (building is located in front of Priscilla Payne Hurd annex of the hospital). Registration for this group is required: call (484) 526-2514 or email Suzann.Ditzel@sluhn.org

Newly Bereaved Workshop

This one-time workshop is for those who have lost a loved one within the past 1-3 months and will provide education on the first few weeks and months of grief following a death. We will cover understanding common grief reactions, coping strategies, self-care throughout the grief process and beyond, and the uniqueness of your grief experience. These workshops will be offered on a bi-monthly basis. We will be meet on Wednesday, January 18, 2017 from 6:00 to 8:00 pm We will meet at the Pricilla Payne Hurd Education Center, St. Luke’s Hospital, Bethlehem Campus, 801 Ostrum Street, Bethlehem, PA 18015 (building is located in front of Priscilla Payne Hurd annex of the hospital). Registration is required: call (484)526-2514 or email Suzann.Ditzel@sluhn.org

Open /Drop-in Support Groups

Please note changes in our Drop-In Group

Our Drop-In groups are designed to offer continued support to bereaved individuals who have already attended grief and loss programs through St. Luke’s Hospice. Drop-In groups afford participants the chance to continue with supportive services. This group is facilitated, but directed by group members in terms of content and discussion. We currently offer 4 Drop-In Support Groups:

Easton: First Monday of every month from 4-5 pm at St. Luke’s Hospital-Anderson Campus, Medical Office Building (MOB), 1700 St. Luke’s Blvd, Easton, PA 18045 in Conference Room A.

Bethlehem: Second Monday of every month from 4:00-5:00 pm at St. Luke’s Pricilla Payne Hurd Education Center, St. Luke’s Hospital, Bethlehem Campus, 801 Ostrum Street, Bethlehem, PA 18015 in Room 112

Quakertown: Second Monday of every month from 6:30-7:30 pm at St. Luke’s Hospital-Quakertown Campus, 1021 Park Avenue, Quakertown, PA 18951 in Taylor B Conference room.

Lehighton: Third Monday of every month from 3:00 - 4:00 pm at Dinkey Memorial Church, 1742 Dinkey Road, Lehighton, PA 18212.

“Infuse your life with action. Don’t wait for it to happen. Make it happen. Make your own future. Make your own hope. Make your own love. And whatever your beliefs, honor your creator, not by passively waiting for grace to come down from upon high, but by doing what you can to make grace happen... yourself, right now, right down here on Earth.”

Volunteer Opportunities Available

We need you! Specially trained volunteers are an integral part of the St. Luke’s Hospice team, and we are always looking for individuals who are wanting to serve as a welcome friend to our patients and their family members. Volunteers share their time and talents in many ways; they visit with patients in their homes or at St. Luke’s inpatient Hospice House, and they also assist with a variety of administrative duties and help at special events. If you have thought about volunteering, please consider donating your time and talents to St. Luke’s Hospice!

For more details, please contact Juana Van Steenvoort, Volunteer Coordinator at (484) 526-7124, or visit http://www.slhn.org/volunteerNOW

(Due to the sensitive nature hospice volunteering requires, we ask that applicants who have experienced the loss of a loved one wait until they have completed a bereavement period of at least one year before applying to become a hospice volunteer).

New Reading

From Grief to Growth: 5 Essential Elements of Action by Paula Stephens

In this new release, the author leads the reader through five game changing elements that provide a road map to a joyful life after loss. The author writes how she went from hiding in the shadow of her son’s death to living in the sunshine of his life. With humor and wit, she shares the stories of the death of her father, her middle son’s drug rehab, and her own struggles to heal. Her practical tips and examples of how others have healed will light the way for anyone wanting to find the light after the loss of a loved one.
